about the Adirondack Mountain Club

The Adirondack Mountain Club (ADK) is a not-for-profit organization founded in 1922 with over 30,000 members across the northeast United States and Canada. ADK is dedicated to the protection of wild lands and waters through a balanced approach of conservation and advocacy, environmental education, and responsible recreation.

about the Laurentian Chapter

The Laurentian Chapter was begun in 1972 and now includes over 400 members, who live in St. Lawrence County and the neighboring areas of Ontario and Quebec provinces.

Why Join the Adirondack Mountain Club?

The screenshot shows the ADK website's 'Your Voice for Wilderness' page. It features a large image of a forested mountain landscape. Below the image, there are several sections: 'Conservation', 'Education', 'Recreation', 'Lodging', and 'Travel'. Under 'Conservation', it says 'Protect the largest wild landscape east of the Mississippi'. Under 'Education', it says 'Promote environmental education', 'Support trail crews and summit stewards', 'enhancing recreation', and 'Save on books, maps, club gear, Loj parking'. Under 'Recreation', it says 'Enjoy reduced rates when staying at ADK facilities: Johns Brook Lodge, the Loj... worldwide'. Under 'Lodging', it says 'Sign up for Adventure Travel trips'. Under 'Travel', it says 'Join or Renew Today!'.
